Home Inventory Documentation

This Home Inventory Documentation guide is designed to help you compile an accurate and current inventory of your possessions. We hope you never need this document. However, it could prove invaluable in the event of an insurance claim.

When documenting inventory, do not include vehicles, animals, or items covered by other policies. This documentation should then be stored in a safe location outside of your home (i.e. safety deposit box, etc.).

Documentation tips:

- List all items of value in your house.
- Update the inventory continuously as you acquire/replace items.
- Keep all receipts with this documentation.
- Color photos/videos are a helpful addition to this documentation.
- If possible, include a family member in the photo/video to verify ownership.
- Take pictures of open drawers/doors to show contents.

For specific information regarding your homeowners insurance coverage, contact your independent insurance agent. They are your best resource for insurance needs and will help determine if you have adequate coverage.

In the event you need to report a claim, you may do so using any of the following:

- Call Mutual Benefit Group's Direct Reporting Line at (800) 290-6361, 24-hours a day, seven days a week.
- Call your independent insurance agent.

Remember to take necessary steps to prevent any further damage to your property once a loss has occurred.

This documentation form is not an insurance policy and has only been provided as a convenience. You are not required to use this to document your inventory. If you use an alternative documentation method, be sure to include the item description, quantity, manufacturer/model, and original cost, in addition to any other reference information you wish to include. We encourage you to review your insurance policy and discuss coverage issues with your independent agent. The language contained in your insurance policy governs the actual coverage provided.
